It is recommended participants have completed the Company Directors Course and/or have board experience.

Facilitator

Geoffrey Kiel,
B Com (Hons) PhD FAIM FAMI FANZMAC FAICD

Emeritus Professor Geoff Kiel is one of Australia's foremost governance experts. He is chairman of Effective Governance, a major Queensland based governance consultancy. Previously, he was the Senior Deputy Vice-Chancellor at the University of Notre Dame Australia and prior to this appointment was for many years Professor of Management at the University of Queensland, where he headed the graduate business school. He is the senior author of the bestselling governance books "Boards that Work" and "Board, Director and CEO Evaluation". He has published extensively on governance topics in international journals. He has extensive experience as a governance and strategy consultant to a wide range of organisations and has been and remains a chairman and a director of several organisations.

Recognising the value and contribution of the executive director on your board and the challenges faced when taking on the two roles of executive and director is a subject that often sparks debate. Evaluating and maintaining the balance between competing board and executive responsibilities is required to ensure the position is adding value to your organisation's performance. The Executive Director delivers an in-depth analysis of the two roles of an executive and a director through expert interview, case studies and practical tools.

You'll examine the responsibilities and evaluate the relationship between the executive director, the CEO and the board, including ways to strengthen these key relationships.

Benefits for Participants

- Apply processes and strategies for effective executive director participation in the boardroom
- Identify how to strengthen the relationship between the executive director and the board
- Outline the separate responsibilities of a director and an executive
- Identify the persons responsible for selecting and appointing executive directors
- Assess the relationship between an executive director and the CEO
